LONDON, July 27.—Following a long debate with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Marshal Goering has now agreed to launch a full-scale attack on England in mid-August, Reuter's News Agency reported today.

The British agency declared that alleged differences of opinion among Hitler's general staff have now been smoothed over. Hitler and his aides recognize, Reuter's declared, that the attack will be a costly one.

"Hospitals are being prepared in western Germany for care of the wounded," Reuter's said, "and doctors and nurses are being drafted from Italy."

LONDON, July 27.—New German air raids on southern England, Wales and northeastern Scotland brought more destruction to the British Isles during the night but caused relatively few casualties, the Air Ministry announced today.

Late this morning German planes again appeared over southwestern England.

An official communique said that houses were wrecked and damaged but that one German bomber had been shot down off the southeast coast.

"There was some enemy activity over our coasts during the night," the announcement said.

"Bombs were dropped at several places in southeast England. One house was wrecked and others were damaged, but casualties were small. One person was killed."

"Bombs also were dropped at isolated points in southwest England, Wales and northeast Scotland, causing minor damage. One person was slightly injured."

"An enemy bomber was brought down off the southeast coast shortly before midnight."

There also was considerable aerial activity over northeastern England early this morning as German raiders met fierce opposition from ground batteries.

One Nazi plane was caught by searchlights and subjected to a heavy bombardment. Tracer bullets were fired and heavy machine-gun fire was heard as the raider was driven away.

When the German planes appeared over the southeastern area shortly before midnight, anti-aircraft batteries went into action and heavy explosions shook houses in the region.

The German plane that was shot down off the southeast coast was first caught by searchlights which held it in a sharp beam of light while anti-aircraft guns went to work.

After a few moments the plane disappeared in a red glow, falling into the sea.

Earlier, Royal Air Force fighters drove off six German raiders along the southeast coast before they could drop any bombs.

The latest German raids appeared to be in retaliation for devastating aerial counter-blows struck by the British to 25 or 30 German military centers.

British authorities claimed the R. A. F. planes struck at huge German petroleum reserves, airplane and tank factories, airdromes, docks, blast-furnaces, freight yards and a canal in reply to the mounting Nazi assaults on Britain.

Some of Germany's largest oil depots and war industries plants were said to have been wrecked or set on fire by the British bombers which also attacked 14 German airdromes, six fuel reservoirs and other military objectives.

British fighting planes and anti-aircraft guns were reported to have shot down at least seven—perhaps more—German raiders which raided Britain's shipping and shores yesterday.

In addition, it was claimed, the R. A. F. repulsed Nazi attacks against England and Scotland and the war's first major German raid against the Irish Ulster coast.

The British counter raids, carried out Thursday night and yesterday morning set fire to plants and oil depots up and down the Ruhr Valley. A large tank and plane factory at Gotha was subjected to a 40-minute pounding that caused two huge fires, returning pilots said. Petroleum depots at Bremen, Sterkrade, Bottrop, Castro-Prauel, Dortmund and Kamen were attacked and 14 Nazi-held airdromes in Holland also were raided.

NANKING, July 27.—(INS)—British and German diplomats, members of the only western missions now in Nanking, are studying the possibilities of the words of Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita—"We should create a situation where the Powers will be unable not to extend recognition to the Wang Ching-wei government regardless of whether they want to or not."

These diplomats have hung on in Nanking during the nearly two years' existence of the Japanese sponsored Reformed Government which Wang Ching-wei replaced, although they did not recognize it and were actually accredited to the National Government of China at Chungking.

The foreign diplomats are wondering if they can continue to follow the same watchful waiting now that Wang Ching-wei has proclaimed the inauguration of his regime. In his initial proclamation, Wang said:

"With this readjustment, made, China and Japan like two brothers reconciled after an unfortunate resort to arms, will be in everlasting peace, and will jointly stabilize East Asia. The same policy of peace-diplomacy will be also applied to all friendly powers in order to promote amicable relationships through faith and sincerity."

Just how long Wang's "peace-diplomacy" will be tolerant of the nations which fail to give him recognition is one of the problems to be solved by the diplomats in his new capital. At this point they admit it to be in the realm of pure speculation.

These American and European diplomats might as well be in the moon as just over the wall from Wang Ching-wei's functioning government. Neither the Chinese nor Japanese sponsors paid any attention to them during the inauguration formalities. They were invited to no functions and were not informed officially of what was happening.

To a lesser degree and outwardly at least, the head of the Japanese diplomatic mission at Nanking was obviously absent from the inaugural ceremonies. The same applied to Japanese military and civilian advisers. No Japanese participated in the brief inauguration. One or two Japanese officers were present among the hundred invited spectators but they wore civilian clothes and purposely remained inconspicuous in the background.

Although American and European newspaper correspondents were in Nanking under auspices of the Japanese military spokesmen, once there they were left in the hands of Wang Ching-wei's Minister of Publicity, Lin Pai-sheng.

Strictly on behalf of the Japanese Army of Occupation and not as part of the new Chinese regime, Lt. General Itagaki and Admiral Oikawa made statements to the foreign correspondents praising Wang Ching-wei and his efforts.

To that extent the Japanese adopted new tactics and strove to push their sponsored Chinese to the fore on their own legs as much as possible. However, in the matter of relinquishing the better and more important buildings which formerly housed the Chinese National Government here, the Japanese did not go very far. It was the unanimous comment of foreigners at the inauguration that General Nishio had not removed his headquarters of the Japanese Army for all China from Wang Ching-wei's new capital.

Not only did the headquarters of the army of occupation remain in Nanking, but the Japanese also remained in Nanking.

Thunderstorms and cooling breezes that broke the summer's most intense heat wave gave Pennsylvanians in some areas today their first approach to comfort in a week.

Yesterday's heat blast set new records at various points throughout the State and added at least eight more deaths to the toll of drownings and prostrations. Six additional prostrations and two drownings raised the week's toll to 41.

A violent thunderstorm broke over Pittsburgh, where the mercury reached 96.

At Harrisburg the temperature climbed to 100, highest reading there since 1936. Lancaster provided the State's high with 102.5, while Philadelphia had its hottest weather of the year, reporting a temperature of 98. Three persons died in Philadelphia.

Meanwhile, cool winds from the snow-capped Rocky Mountains which sent temperatures dropping throughout the sweltering plains states, continued eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard.

New York City greeted today's forecast with relief after a day of intense suffering as the mercury rose to 95, the highest in three years.

Nazis Deny Peace Offers

Berlin, July 27.—Nazi Germany today brushed aside a new wave of rumors alleging another "peace offer" to Great Britain.

"Our final word was spoken by the Fuehrer on July 19 in his speech before the Reichstag," a spokesman declared.

"There is nothing more to say. 'Naturally, if Churchill comes along tomorrow, says he has had enough and is ready to talk reason, that is another matter.'"

The rumors included one of mediation by Pope Pius or King Gustav of Sweden, but Germany's intensifying aerial war on England was cited as proof of this country's determination to fight to the end.

DOYLESTOWN, July 27.—Returning home from a trip to Canada which included experiences with forest fire and a day's hike across a western Canada ice-field while climbing with the Alpine Club of Canada, George H. Riley, Doylestown R. F. D., is relating to his friends some of his unique experiences.

Mr. Riley, a Philadelphia newspaperman, and an amateur mountaineer in his vacation periods, found out at first hand why the Canadian Rockies are called the Switzerland of America. Some Alpinists even call them more Switzerland than Switzerland itself.

A member of the Rocky Mountain Climbers' Club, he was elected to the Canadian Alpine Club, following an ascent with a party of five of a 11,400 foot peak in the Lyell glacier range, bordering the Columbia icefield. The climb was made on a 15-hour trek across deep ice and snow, from Glacier Valley, 60 miles north of Lake Louise, where the Alpine Club established main camp.

The camp was 25 miles west of the newly opened Banff-Jasper highway, a road which has made a heretofore practically unexplored region of the glacier peaks and valleys visible for the first time to motorists, and, in large part, accessible for the first time to climbers.

Just before their arrival, a forest fire had swept over a portion of the North Saskatchewan River valley, and the climbing party walked knee-deep through still warm ashes for more than a mile, and had to cross swift glacier streams on horseback, log

The Night-Gown Parade

(By "The Stroller")

One Hulmeville woman who is very proud of the fact that her washing is the first to be hung on the lines on Monday mornings, may now be cured of arising at the hours of three and four. She had a visitor the other morning, and the visitor although plainly heard "knock-knock" could not be seen in spite of the early morning search by the entire household.

But the marauder made his presence felt in another way. It was at 4 a. m., as the week's accumulation of clothing was being washed and rinsed, that a definite "knock-knock" was heard. The lady of the house listened, then it came again from the vicinity of the porch, making an eerie sound in the dead of the night.

Hurriedly she aroused the household, and the search started. One door was opened, then another and another, but no visitor could be seen. But the stench that filled the atmosphere informed that Mr. or Mrs. Skunk was close by—in fact too close for comfort. Mr. Skunk was evidently the knocker who was merely attempting to gain entrance to a newly-found home under the porch.

The Rev. Father William Pope, of Collingdale, officiated at the nuptial ceremony in St. Mark's R. C. Church at nine o'clock. Miss Katherine Keating, Linden street, served as organist, and selections were sung by the church choir.

Miss Emily Lark, of Buffalo, N. Y., served as bridesmaid for her cousin, while Mr. Vincent McGee, Linden St., attended his brother as groomsmen.

The wedding gown and veil of the former Miss Klawitter was of orchid pink, the gown being an attractive model in marquisette. Appearing at the front of the Sweetheart neckline, and on either side of the triple-tucked skirt, were bows of self-material. The dress had short puffed sleeves, and the skirt featured a short train. Silk net formed the veil of orchid pink tone, the head-dress being a small bow. Long orchid pink gloves of lace, and pink satin slippers were worn, and the bride carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Miss Lark, the bridesmaid, was attired in light blue marquisette. A double ruffle of self material edged the square neck-line. Vertical ruching was used on the full skirt, and the sleeves were short and puffed. A tiny bow of matching marquisette, with

Delegates Think Conference A Success

By Joseph Baird

HAVANA, July 27.—(INS)—United States delegates to the inter-American conference of foreign ministers today anticipated speedy Latin-American acceptance of proposals put before the parley by Secretary of State Cordell Hull to insulate the Western Hemisphere against inroads by Germany or other totalitarian states.

While it was admitted that these proposals may undergo some modification, the general feeling was that they will be approved by the conference in forms retaining their chief outlines.

International News Service learned that the United States delegates already have informed the State Department in Washington that they plan to leave Havana Tuesday night.

When asked by Washington if this meant that Hull felt his efforts had been futile, the delegation replied that on the contrary, the secretary of state was convinced that the essence of his proposals will have been adopted by them.

Chief of these is the United States plan for a Pan American "trusteeship" of European colonies in the Western Hemisphere, to be exercised if necessary to prevent such colonies from passing from the hands of one non-American power to another.

Both the United States and Argentina agree that such European colonies should be prevented from coming into possession of different European powers. The chief differences between Washington and Buenos Aires on this point concern methods whereby this aim may be achieved.

It was said that what may seem like "surprise developments" from the Argentina delegation may be forthcoming during the next few days in an attempt to convince the Latin-American states that the Argentine delegate, Dr. Leopoldo Melo, is making a strong fight against Hull.

But the United States delegation is said to have advance knowledge that these Argentine maneuvers will be nothing more than stage play.

Hull and Melo are to get together this morning in Hull's hotel suite for what may prove a down-to-earth discussion between the two diplomats.

Great importance is attached to this meeting, which will be conducted along the lines of political spade-work at which Hull has few equals.

TALLEST MAN

Somewhere in the body of Robert Wadlow, who died a few days ago, lies the answer to some of the questions concerning tissue growth; for Wadlow was the tallest person in American medical history, perhaps taller than those semi-mythical giants of ancient times.

Born as a normal child of eight and one-half pounds, young Robert started his fast growing in the early months of his infancy. By the time he was eight years old, he was six feet, two and one-half inches tall, and weighed 195 pounds. When he graduated from high school at 17, he stood eight feet, four inches and weighed 390 pounds. At his death he was 22 years old, eight feet, ten inches tall, and tipped the scales at 491 pounds.

Except for this physical peculiarity, Robert Wadlow seemed normal enough. He was an honor student at high school, was fond of swimming, and engaged in basketball games at the local Y. M. C. A. This is in contrast to most giants whose growth is believed due to overfunctioning of the pituitary gland—a fact which suggests that unless Goliath was simply a Philistine husky, he was a set-up for the nimble, wiry shepherd lad from the hills.

But Wadlow's size soon made normal living impossible. After studying law for a year, Robert wound up, as have so many persons who vary by nature very far from the human standard, with the circus. It is the tragedy of such people that ordinary companionship is denied them, and they become an exhibit rather than a personality.

Perhaps giantism had left its blemish in the tissue, for Robert Wadlow died from an infection caused by the chafing of an ankle brace. Yet foot infections have frequently proved fatal to normal, healthy young men and women. Whatever the real cause, medical science has lost its No. 1 example of a disease which baffles the profession and makes its victim a public spectacle.

FOREST CONSERVATION

When the making of paper pulp began in the South and grew into a $200,000,000 industry, some three years ago, foresters feared that over-cutting and depletion of timber resources might result.

It is found, on the contrary, according to officials of the United States Forest Service, that the pulp paper industry is the chief non-government supporter of forest conservation.

Pulp mills now own 5,000,000 of the 200,000,000 acres of forest land in twelve Southern states. It was natural that the pulp mills should practice conservation, but they have gone further with a campaign of education among independent owners and the results are gratifying.

The South has no greater potential wealth than its forest resources, and it is highly important that they should be developed along intelligent lines.

Dr. Henry G. James, president of the University of Ohio, warns against the phrasemakers. "The greatest anesthetic to thought ever experienced in the United States," says he, "was the phrase, 'Make the world safe for democracy.'" "Inferiority complex" didn't help any either.

Engineer Kettering says 400 miles on a gallon of gasoline is a possibility. That raises the ante considerably for the current braggarts.

Willkie To Invade South

Colorado Springs, July 27—Convinced that the Democratic South is not a New Deal South, Wendell L. Willkie today contemplated an invasion of the States once considered so solidly Democratic that no Republican candidate for President would take the time to visit them.

Willkie's invasion is expected to take two forms—personal and third party. Some time within the next few weeks, probably before the candidate goes to Elwood, Indiana, on August 17, to formally accept the nomination, it is expected that he will make a skirmish trip into the South to sound out sentiment on his candidacy.

Even before the organization of a third party may have begun in the South, built around a nucleus of old-line Democrats who have found themselves unable to go along with the party since Chicago.

The strategy of the third party would be to provide a home for those Southern Democrats who could not quite bring themselves to vote a Republican ticket but would have no objection to an Independent Democratic slate of electors.

The Willkie forces hope to attract the Southern Democratic dissenters through the theory often advanced by the candidate that this is not a partisan campaign but a people's crusade.

Indicating that the carve-up of Rumania is underway, diplomatic quarters at Bucharest were reported to have been informed that Rumanian Premier Gurgutu in Germany yesterday handed a memorandum to German foreign minister Von Ribbentrop offering part of Transylvania to Hungary.

The memorandum proposed a plebiscite in the other sections of Transylvania which are still under dispute between the two countries.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

CLIMBING thermometers are pretty apt to affect the family's appetites from the youngsters right on up to Dad so it is wise to plan especially tempting menus during the month of July. With the market full of fresh vegetables and fruit this will not be difficult. Almost all of the berry family is well represented in the list of plentiful fruits this week. Raspberries and blackberries offer a variety of suggestions for delicious hot water desserts. Cherries, peaches and oranges are also available in good quantity and reasonable prices. As for the vegetables, it is hard to choose among such an array of wealth from the garden. In the list of particularly good buys are green beans, beets, cabbage, tomatoes, peas, spinach and lettuce.

Broiling and frying chickens are unusually low in price this week and there is also a most excellent supply of fresh fish in wide variety in the market. Beef and lamb are both slightly lower and because of their low prices ham, tongue and bacon should receive special attention when planning your menus.

Miss Cora Anthony, director of the A&P scientific kitchens where menus are planned and recipes tested for benefit of American homemakers, gives the following suggestions for Sunday dinners in three price levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Baked Tongue
Baked Tomatoes
Riced Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Blackberry Pudding
Iced Tea or Iced Coffee

Moderate Cost Dinner
Iced Pineapple Juice
Fried Chicken
Creamed Potatoes
Pickled Beets
Bread and Butter
Huckleberry Pie
Iced Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Iced Cantaloupe
Baked Bass
New Potatoes with Drawn Butter
Fresh Corn
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Cherry Tarts
Iced Tea or Iced Coffee

But her grief cut short that observation. He took another tack with, "I knew how you cared about Tex. I saw you at Cleveland last year. I didn't realize... I thought you wanted security and peace. You'd never have found that with the lovable but erratic Tex."

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

One of the season's most engrossing action films is coming to the Grand Theatre today. Warner Bros. "A Fugitive From Justice," featuring a cast headed by Roger Pryor, Lucile Fairbanks, niece of the late Douglas, making her screen debut, and Eddie Foy, Jr., Sheila Bromley, Morgan Conway and Donald Douglas.

The determined efforts of a young cattleman to restore law and order to a prairie community run by an unscrupulous promoter, form the exciting basis of George O'Brien's latest western thriller, "Prairie Law," at the Grand Theatre today.

"Irene," one of the most popular musical comedies of all time, comes to the screen with the lovely British star, Anna Neagle, in the title-role and Ray Milland co-starred, at the Grand Sunday.

BRISTOL THEATRE

"Blazing Six Shooters," suspenseful range drama with Charles Starrett, ends its sensational run at the Bristol Theatre today. The film, with its musical interludes supplied by the singing Sons of the Pioneers, famous radio quintet, also features in its cast lovely Iris Meredith, as Starrett's leading lady, Dick Curtis, George Cleveland, Henry Hall, Bruce Bennett and Bob Nolan. Joseph Lewis directed.

Peter Lorre scores one of the finest acting triumphs of the year as the star of the weird and exciting Columbia drama, "Island of Doomed Men," which opened at the Bristol Theatre yesterday.

"Rebecca" will be shown at the Bristol on Sunday.

RITZ THEATRE

"Johnny Apollo" — college hero, banker's son — mobster!

That's the powerful role that brought Tyrone Power to the Ritz Theatre last night in the drama of that title, which co-stars him with Dorothy Lamour.

Not since "Jesse James" has Tyrone had a part like this, and never in his career has he given such a great performance. And lovely Lamour reveals her true allure for the first time as "Lucky" Dubarry, the night club entertainer who falls hard for "Johnny Apollo."

That nice boy who used to live next door to somebody in Auburn, Mass., is now in Hollywood and motion pictures where he is known as Jeffrey Lynn. He made his mark in the picture "Four Daughters," and has since appeared in many films, his current one being "It All Came True," with Ann Sheridan, which is showing at the Ritz Theatre.

Japan Follows New Course With Puppets

but it continued to use the former Ministry of Foreign Affairs. This is one of the best of the city's modern structures and stands out prominently on Chung Shan Road, leading thoroughfare of Nanking. Instead of turning that over to Wang Ching-wei, the Japanese openly were erecting new and permanent buildings in the courtyard all the while the new regime was being born.

The same holds true of other large former government offices. The new regime had to be content with a few of the lesser ministries and offices of the now defunct Reformed Government. Even Japanese present dared to critic size their government for not giving Wang more face in this regard. They advanced the notion that the least Tokio might have done would have been to shift General Nishio to Shanghai.

Although it is an open fact that Wang Ching-wei is surrounded by Japanese military and civilian advisors, no admittance of the fact was made in any official pronouncement of the personnel of the new regime. Since these Japanese kept in the background, no one knows just exactly how many of them are at work in Nanking.

International News Service learns from confidential sources that both the Japanese and Wang Ching-wei had agreed to the plan of naming American and European advisors to the new regime to offset Japanese advisors. This was spiced by the objection of certain of Wang's Ministers rather than by Japanese motives.

American influence in the Wang regime, however, is not entirely absent. President of the Executive Yuan, Chen Kung-po, is an M. A. from Columbia. President of the Judicial Yuan, Wen Tsung-yao, likewise studied in an American College. Minister of Publicity, Lin Tai-sheng, worked for a year or more in California as editor of a Chinese newspaper.

However, against these there are eight or more of the important cabinet ministers who studied exclusively in Japanese higher schools. This number includes Wang Ching-wei who attended the Tokio Law School.

Whatever Japan's leniency and shift of policy in dealing with the new regime, it is known that they chafed under the paucity of high class Chinese material which Wang Ching-wei was able to muster for them.

This was particularly true in the realm of industrial and economic planning. When qualified Japanese industrialists sat down at the conference table with Wang delegates to discuss economic problems, they are reported to have been struck by the lack of practical ability of the Chinese. In that regard, the Chinese are understood to be annoyed that Wang's representatives agreed to a fifty-one forty-nine division of Sino-Japanese stock in major industrial corporations, whereas the Japanese had previously fixed a seventy-thirty ratio for Chinese and Japanese interests in certain organizations.

DESIGNED FOR INFORMALITY

SKILLFUL handling of simple architectural motifs and material has produced a picturesque result here. The plan of this house, which may be placed to advantage on a narrow lot, is a popular type and has been arranged with unusual convenience and regard for the joy of "householding."

The plan offers opportunity for variation. For instance, if a small family built this home it would be a simple matter to transform the 8'9" x 11' bedroom into a dining room and make the denette into a den.

For further information write the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, 1237 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C. Inquiries should refer to the "Oberlin."

LANDRETH NINE TO PLAY GIRARD TEAM TOMORROW

Strong South Phila. Team To Be "Farmers' " Opponents Here

BRUCKER ON MOUND

Harvey Will Be On Receiving End For The Local Team

Landreth Seeds tomorrow will stack up against the well known and strong nine of the Girard team of the South Philadelphia Baseball League. The game will be called at three o'clock at the Landreth Ball Park when Brucker will take the mound for Landreth with Harvey behind the bat.

The Landreth team is playing fast ball these days and a team must be good to defeat them.

The Girard team at the present time is leading the South Philadelphia Baseball League and ranks with the outstanding combinations from the Philadelphia district.

Their record against league competition thus far this season, shows Girard Estate at the top of the heap with 13 victories out of 17 starts. And, against exhibition position their record is just as impressive.

Last season the Girard outfit, which has been in continuous existence for over 20 seasons, finished runner-up for the championship, and even though they lost out in the final playoffs, their percentage average was higher than any other loop member.

Quite a number of the players in the Girard lineup have either been away in organized baseball, or are being closely followed by major league scouts.

Dave Robinson, shortstop, is a prospect for the Phillies, who will likely send him away next campaign, while Don Furey, first base, with a build of six feet three inches and 185 pounds, is considered the best initial sack prospect seen in Philadelphia in years, and he's being followed by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Buzz Modeski, hard-hitting catcher, saw service for Dover in the Eastern Shore League; Phil Simons has experienced gained at Eastern of the same circuit, while hurler Max Patkin was at Wilmington, which is the A's farm in the Inter-State League, and pitcher Bill Wood is one of the stars of the Villanova College nine.

EDGELY NINE CONQUERS THE VOLTZ-TEXACO TEAM

On Landreth's field last evening, the Edgely team remained in the run for a playoff post in the Suburban League by conquering the Voltz-Texaco boys, 6-1.

The tilt was slow and listless from the start. Edgely took a 6-0 lead in the first two stanzas and kept it throughout. The Voltz team lacked team-work and committed a total of seven errors. Edgely only made six hits in the game.

Stan Dick did the hurrying for the winners and with the early lead given him took things easily, although the others could only muster four safe blows.

MANY BOXING FANS WATCH FIGHTERS TRAIN

Every evening from seven o'clock to nine, hundreds of amateur boxing fans flock to the St. Ann's A. A. arena to watch the local amateurs go through their training paces. That the boys are in earnest about their careers can be seen by the manner in which they take their training seriously.

The next amateur boxing show to be sponsored by the St. Ann's organization with the sanction of the Middle Atlantic district of the A. A. U., is scheduled for Monday night. This will be the opening night of the Bucks County tournament.

Several boys who were beaten in the last show have asked the officials in charge of the matches to re-match with their opponents as they feel that they can make a better showing now that their "stage fright" is over. Tickets for the Monday night show will go on sale over the week-end. A larger crowd than was there last week is anticipated.

SINGLE BY DE RISI WINS FOR DIAMOND

CORNWELLS, July 27—A single by Big Mike DeRisi spelled victory for the Diamond team over the Odd Fellows last evening on the Bensalem High school field.

The blow came in the final inning. The score was deadlocked at 3-3 and Helveston was on third base with Hubsch on second. DeRisi picked out a pitch to his liking and walloped it into deep left to score the winning run. On the hit both runners scored and DeRisi tried to stretch his hit to a home run but was out at the plate. According to the baseball rules, DeRisi receives credit for a single and the second run that crossed does not count.

The tilt was a pitcher's battle between Milt Jones and Paul Dean. Jones gave up seven hits while Dean allowed one more. Billy Hibbs, Sid Purcell, and Hubsch led the batters with two hits each.

PIUMA PITCHES AIR-TIGHT GAME

CROYDON, July 27—With "Herm" Piuma pitching air-tight ball, the Croydon Y. M. A. nine held on to its lead in the Bristol Suburban League, blanking the St. Luke's team, 5-0, on the diamond at State Road and Second Avenue.

Piuma fanned six and allowed but three hits. Only one St. Luke's player reached third base and that was Dougherty by virtue of a steal. So good was Piuma's control that he did not pass a batter.

Five runs in the fifth clinched the tilt for the Y's. Previous to that Wally Oppman had put them ahead, 2-0, on a hit to left which scored Piuma and Bauroth. In the fifth, Croydon counted five times. In this frame, Piuma and Friel both drove in a pair of runs.

LAZARAVICH-McGRATH MATCH IS SCHEDULED

In the local tennis championship matches played Thursday evening on the courts of the Bristol Tennis Club, McGrath, of Rohm & Haas, defeated Bud Pearson, 6-1, 6-4, and thereby earned the right to meet the winner of the Lazaravich-Davies match in the finals.

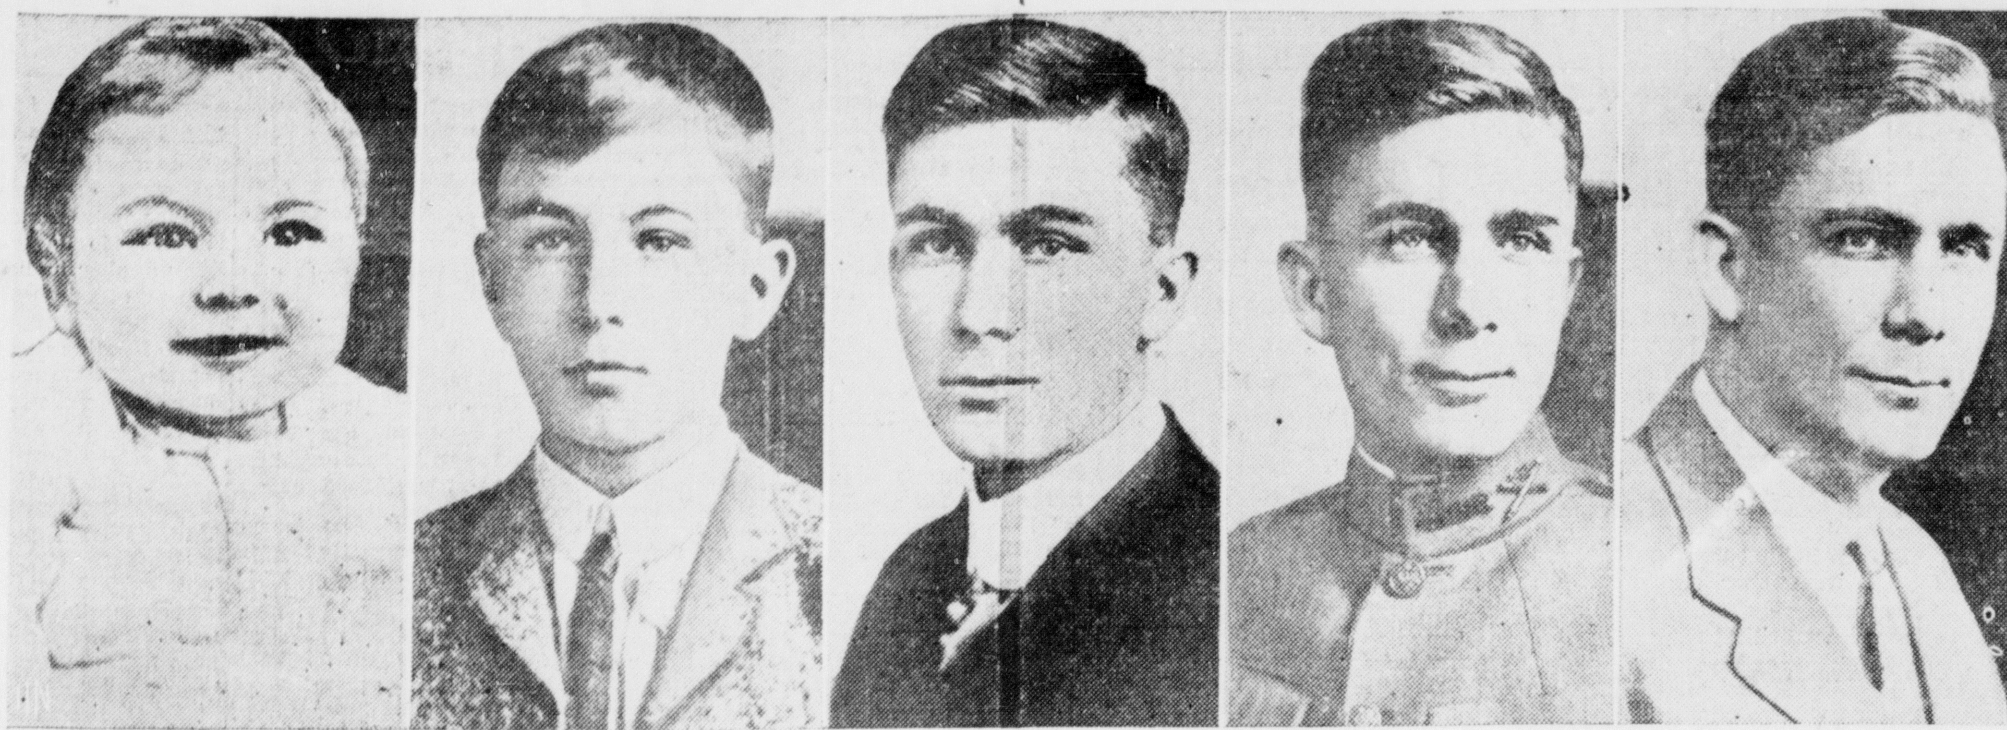

This latter match was called on account of darkness when the score stood 5-5 in the second set, Lazaravich having won the first set, 6-2.

The result of the McGrath-Pearson match may be classed as a mild upset, as Pearson was seeded No. 2 in the tournament draw. To those following tennis closely in this section, however, this result was not totally unexpected, due to McGrath's splendid showing against Moylan in the Bristol Invitation Tournament last year.

The Lazaravich-Davies match was completed last evening. Starting from 5-5 in the second set, Lazaravich rolled off two straight games to take the set and match, thereby defeating last year's champion.

This afternoon at one o'clock a new champion will be crowned when Lazaravich and McGrath meet in the final match.

Before The Races

LANGHORNE, July 27 — Fans who are planning to attend the second annual all-American AAA championship stock car race at Langhorne Speedway on Sunday, August 4th, will see the cream of the stock car crop, but they will have missed plenty of action such as is scheduled to take place tomorrow afternoon on the world's fastest mile speedway when more than 40 aspiring petrol potentates attempt to qualify for one of the 36 starting posts on Sunday, August 4th.

Triple-A officials are expected to select 18 eligibles from the field tomorrow afternoon during the running of at least five 10-mile qualifying heat races, the first of which is set to get under way at 2:30, eastern daylight time. Although the qualifying on July 28th is compulsory for those entrants living within a 400-mile radius of Philadelphia or Trenton, N. J., many of the drivers from longer distances have indicated they will be on hand.

Qualifying date for those living outside the 400-mile zone is set for Saturday, the day preceding the actual running of the 200-mile stock car classic, Sunday, August 4th.

Listed among those who have been advised to appear for their tests Sunday by Joe Dawson, AAA Zone Supervisor, are Red Redmond; Joie Chitwood, Frankie Bailey, Henry Banks, Mark Light, Everett Saylor, Ted Horn, Bob Sall, Otis Stine, Dan Goss, Bert Ross, Walter Keiper, Bill Strauss, Irving Figge, Ted Nyquist, Reginald Johnson, Fred Davagar, A. C. Montgomery, Harold Brokhoff, Hugh B. INVITATION TOURNAMENT OPENS HERE TOMORROW

Plans have now been completed by the Bristol Tennis Club for the holding of the second annual Bristol invitation tournament. The field this year has been limited to 16 players and will be completed in three days, weather permitting. The first and second roundings will be played tomorrow. The semi-finals are scheduled to be played on the following Saturday with the finals to follow on Sunday, August 4th. Edward Moylan, popular and capable champion of Trenton, N. J., and winner of this tournament last year, is defending his title this year against a field greatly strengthened by the entry of Fritz Kuser, eight times champion of Trenton. This will afford Bristol tennis lovers an opportunity to watch a man who has dominated tennis in this district for some years.

Moylan heads the seeded list and is followed in order by Herb Lawrence, runner-up to Moylan last year, James Allen of Princeton, and Jack Talbot, of George School.

With the field limited to 16 players close and interesting matches will result from the very beginning. Sunday's schedule follows:

Bob Boyd vs. Noble Hall, 10:30 a. m.
Joe Waldron vs. Jack Talbot, 10:30
H. Waldron vs. Lazaravich, 10:30
Jim Waldron vs. James Allen 12:30
Herb Lawrence vs. Applestein, 12:30
Ed Moylan vs. Bill Dwyer, 11:30
Nelson Green vs. Harry Phitzinger, 11:30
Fritz Kuser vs. McGrath, 11:30

The winners of these first round matches will meet in the second round in the afternoon matches. Should the seedings prove correct a meeting between Fritz Kuser and James Allen will headline the afternoon encounters.

Do You Long For The "Good Old Days"?

The "good old days" had much that was quaint—and much that we would laugh at today. Ask your grandmother to tell you something about the "good old days"—about a shopping trip, for instance.

She'll recall how she trudged to the store with a basket of eggs. How she traded them for barrel sugar and whole-bean coffee. She can tell you about Shiftless Joe who could squirt "tobacco juice" 10 feet to the sawdust box around the pot-bellied stove . . . and about the cat that slept in the cracker barrel!

Would you want to buy the family food from the old cracker-barrel store?

Answer that question for yourself next time someone tells you that advertising is costing the American household millions of dollars a year. Answer it with careful deliberation, remembering that without national distribution, made possible by advertising, modern stores and tested goods in sanitary packages would no longer be sold. As sure as a cat slept in a cracker barrel, we'd be back in the "good old days."

How about the cost of advertising? Actually advertising costs only a small fraction, often only 1/50 cent, on an article.

That, however, is not the way to judge advertising cost. What of the cost of advertising as long as the goods we buy cost less? And it is a fact that most of the pure, clean, high-quality foods of today cost less than the unbranded, doubtful-value goods of yesteryear.
